Traffic Fatality Count Starts For Weekend

Holiday May Extend Through Tuesday for Many in America

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic deaths mounted slowly as motorists took to the road in the early hours of a weekend which for some would extend through Tuesday's Memorial Day holiday.

Adding to normal travel are those who for various reasons can include Monday to make the period a four-day weekend.

As of mid-morning, there had been about 40 deaths on the nation's highways. None was counted in Ohio.

The weather refused to cooperate with those planning spring outings, however, and spread unseasonable cold temperatures over much of the nation.

The National Safety Council made no estimate of highway fatalities for the four-day period but said extraordinary travel on Memorial Day alone could produce 100 deaths, 30 more than the average on a nonholiday Tuesday.

A nationwide Associated Press survey, made for comparative purposes covering the 102-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday May 12 to Tuesday, May 16, counted 341 traffic deaths, 14 boating fatalities, 78 drownings and 106 miscellaneous for a total of 537.

The Council said traffic fatalities would average 385 over a nonholiday 102-hour period.

The last period of that duration when Memorial Day fell on Tuesday was in 1950 when 347 traffic deaths were reported. An over-all total of 571 deaths for the period also included 96 drownings and 128 deaths from miscellaneous causes.

The last midweek Memorial Day was in 1957 when the holiday fell on Thursday. That period, also extending 102 hours, saw 413 traffic deaths, 134 drownings and 113 miscellaneous for a total of 660.

The Memorial Day holiday of 1958 covering Friday, Saturday and Sunday produced a record 371 traffic deaths. Only four less, 367, were counted last year when the holiday fell on Monday.

Memorial Day Parade Slated

The annual Memorial Day parade will form at 9 a. m. Tuesday at the Memorial Hall and march to Soldier's Glen in Forest Cemetery, Merle Thomas, parade marshal, announced today.

The parade will be headed by cars of the City Police Department, Sheriff's Department and State Highway Patrol.

Units of the American Legion and VFW will march as color guards, followed by committee men and parade officials in autos.

The Circleville and Ashville High School bands will provide march music. All Girl Scout, Boy Scout, Brownie and Cub Scout units and their leaders will be in the parade.

THE last unit will be the Walnut Twp. High School band.

James P. Shea, veteran's service officer, will be master of ceremonies for the observance at the cemetery.

A full program of commemoration is scheduled, with the traditional firing squad and playing of taps as a memorial to dead soldiers featured.

The speaker will be Common Pleas Judge William Ammer.

Columbus Boy Killed In Rifle Accident

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—David B. Johnson, 16, was shot and killed Friday night by a 13-year-old companion, Terry Wallace, police reported.

Officers said the two were in the bedroom of Johnson's home here getting ready to go to a dance. They quoted the Wallace boy as saying he picked up a .22 caliber rifle to examine it and that it went off accidentally, the bullet hitting Johnson in the right eye.

New Record Low Forces Need For Heavy Wearing Apparel

Tuesday may be Memorial Day, but as a result of this morning's low temperatures today probably will be remembered as "memorable day."

Mercury dropped to a cold 32 degrees early this morning according to local weather authorities, setting a new record low. In 1949 the temperature dropped to 38 on the corresponding day.

A 48-hour outlook calls for clear skies, with fair and warmer weather at least through Sunday. High today is expected to reach 58-64; low tonight, 38-42. Sunday's high will be closer to normal temperatures, around 70-74.

A light frost covered the Pickaway County area early today and according to reports here, light snow fell in some parts of the state. Heavy coats and more blankets on the bed were common to all.

S. G. RADEK, 105 Northridge Road, declared this to be the coldest May 27, since 1895. He said on June 10 of that year mercury plunged to about 30 degrees and froze seed corn that had been planted the second time.

Rader remembered he was teaching school at that time in Pike County country schools. While walking to school that morning, fields were covered with a heavy frost and water puddles were frozen on the road, the 85-year-old man said.

If the aftermath of the "cool spell" follows suit, as in the past three weeks, area residents can expect more tornado warnings as soon as it warms up.

The lowest temperatures for May 1960, fell on the first day of the month with a reading of 35. May 1, 1961 recorded a low of 30 degrees.

The damage of last night's killing frost is expected to be heavy in this area, particularly to tomato plants and flowers and possibly strawberries.

Local citizens today hoped this is the end of the "out-of-season" frost and freezing temperatures. In particular they don't want a repeat of Rader's story concerning June 10, 1895.

Kentucky Grand Jury Files Writs in Ratterman Probe

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—A surprise indictment faces Thomas J. Paisley, Medina, Ohio businessman accused of conspiring with Tito Carinci of Newport to bring about the arrest of George Ratterman in a police vice raid that ended in a sensational trial and dismissal of the charges.

The indictment against Paisley and Carinci came Friday night by the grand jury which charged them with plotting to drug Ratterman and bring about his arrest in a hotel with a strip tease dancer.

He was arrested May 9 in this city notorious for its gambling houses.

Ratterman is a candidate for sheriff, backed by a reform movement, pledged to rid Campbell County of gambling and vice.

In a separate action, the grand jury also indicted nine men on charges of allowing gambling in some of the city's most widely known night spots. These indictments, Commonwealth Atty. William Wise said, resulted principally from testimony of state liquor agents sent into Newport a few weeks ago by Gov. Bert Combs in one phase of a crackdown by the state. Among the places cited in the indictment were the Yorkshire Club, the Flamingo Club and the Belmont Snax Bar.

Indictment of Paisley and Carinci in the Ratterman case came after the jury heard three days of testimony concerning the former professional football player's arrest with dancer Juanita Jean Hodges, 26, of Houston, Tex.

It was in Carinci's apartment at the Glenn Hotel that three detectives arrested Ratterman and Miss Hodges. Carinci manages

'Freedom Riders' Choose Jail to Paying of Fines

Latin Nations Join Rebel Fund Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fund raising groups in more than half the countries of Latin America have joined U. S. citizens in efforts to buy tractors to ransom 1,200 rebel prisoners held by Cuba.

This is part of evidence reaching Washington that Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has suffered a serious propaganda setback as a result of his offer of tractors for prisoners.

Other evidence comes from comments by Latin American newspapers and public speakers which are in striking contrast to the stream of anti-U.S. utterances received here many times in the past.

The 10 prisoners Castro paroled a week ago to arrange a deal in the United States are slated to return to Havana today.

They carry a message from a U. S. committee promising to supply the tractors if Castro frees the captives.

However, the group headed by labor leader Walter Reuther, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, wants to send a technical committee to Havana to work out details and obtain assurances that the prisoners actually will be released.

Castro has yet to reply to a telegram sent early this week containing the Reuther group's acceptance.

In Detroit, headquarters of the Tractors for Freedom Committee, contributions to the tractor fund are beginning to come in, but have not been totaled.

Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, told a Philadelphia audience the committee had received two $25,000 contributions.

Information available in Washington indicates that tractor fund raising drives are under way in 11 of the 20 Latin lands south of the border. They are Chile, Colombia, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru, Panama, Uruguay and Venezuela.

Dems To Rally Behind Kennedy

Birthday Party To Attract 6,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 6,000 Democrats rally tonight behind President Kennedy.

Kennedy himself had top billing at the $100-a-plate dinner celebrating his 44th birthday: two days early. The sale of 6,000 tickets promised a sizable reduction of the party's $2 million debt.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., former President Harry S. Truman and other party notables are to speak on a program to emphasize that Democrats are united behind Kennedy in advance of his trip to Europe next week.

Kennedy leaves after the dinner for his Hyannisport, Mass., summer home. From there he will go to Boston Monday night for another birthday dinner. Returning to Hyannisport, he will fly to New York Tuesday to speak that night at a Cancer Fund dinner.

Tuesday night, accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy, he will fly to Paris for conferences with President Charles de Gaulle. From there he will go to Vienna for informal talks June 3-4 with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Kennedys will fly to London June 5, where they will meet the queen and Kennedy will talk with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The Democratic National Committee arranged to get reports from Chairman John M. Bailey and other party workers at a mid-day session in advance of tonight's dinner. Baileu announced he would call for appointment of a committee to begin consideration of a site and later for the party's 1964 convention.

Committee aides said there were no plans for formal replies to fresh Republican attacks launched against Kennedy. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana touched these off by assailing Kennedy's support for a private committee's campaign to raise funds to trade 500 tractors to Prime Minister Fidel Castro for 1,200 prisoners taken in the disastrous invasion of Cuba.

Advanced Atlas Test Fires OK

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An advanced Atlas missile designed for heavier payload and greater range has scored its second straight success on a 5,000-mile test flight.

The flight Friday night is further evidence that the Air Force has solved problems which beset the new Atlas "E" rocket in early test flights.

Five of the first six launchings of the improved missile failed. The trouble was traced to a faulty hydraulics system. The system was modified and on May 12 an Atlas successfully flew the course.

$38 Million School Fund To Be Divided

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio schools will split up $38,146,284 soon. That sum is the fourth quarter share of school foundation funds for the 1960-61 fiscal year. State Auditor James A. Rhodes said this distribution brings to $186,905,928 the amount given to the state's schools during the fiscal year in foundation funds.

27 Convicted In Trial in Mississippi

6 Others in Georgia Threaten To Go on Hunger Strike in Cells

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first 27 "freedom riders" convicted during the current drive to desegregate Deep South bus facilities remained voluntarily in a Mississippi jail today while 6 others threatened a jail hunger strike in Alabama.

The legal action in Jackson, Miss., apparently had little effect on the determination of Negro leaders, however. Statements issued in a number of cities indicated a stepped up campaign was being planned with more riders expected to head South shortly.

The 27 convicted of breach of the peace in Jackson elected to remain in jail, at least for the present, rather than post bond or pay fines.

City Judge James Spencer told the riders their conduct "flagrantly disobeyed the law" shortly before he imposed $200 fines and 60-day jail terms Friday. But he suspended the jail terms at the request of the prosecution.

Defense attorney Wiley Branton of Little Rock, Ark., contended officers herded the 27 into a waiting room for white persons when they arrived from Montgomery, Ala., Wednesday in what he described as a "plot to arrest them."

At Montgomery, 6 of 11 riders arrested on charges of breach of the peace when they attempted to get integrated service at a bus station lunch counter were still in jail.

The chaplain at Yale University and four others from Eastern colleges were released under $1,000 cash bond each and flew to New York, explaining final exams begin next week.

Before leaving they held a news conference at the home of the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, a Negro integration leader who is among the six in jail. The home was heavily guarded by National Guardsmen.

George B. Smith, a Negro law student at Yale, said Abernathy had been denied permission to telephone his wife since his arrest Thursday.

"Those who remain in jail, beginning with the evening meal, have planned to start a fast which will continue until he is allowed to call his wife," Smith said.

The Rev. William S. Coffin Jr., the Yale chaplain, termed the arrests completely illegal. He also said a Yale faculty member sent down $7,000 for use as bond money, but declined to name the faculty member.

Coffin, who is a member of the President's Youth Corps Advisory Council, told newsmen after spending 28 hours in jail that "While I have been in jail I have had time to think of every Peace Corps man and woman, whether they come from the North or South, and particularly those going to Tanganyika, the Philippines and Colombia. They will have to bear the burden of Montgomery, Ala."

Also released on bond were the Rev. Gaylord B. Boyce, assistant professor of religion at Yale; Dr. David E. Swift, professor of religion at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.; and Dr. John Maguire, assistant professor of religion at Wesleyan.

Meanwhile, there was every indication that there would be no letup in the rides and their objective of ending travel discrimination.

Ottawa Telephone Co. Granted 32 Pct. Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Utilities Commission has granted the Ottawa Telephone Co. of Putnam County a 32 per cent increase in local service telephone rates. This amounts to a $20,476 yearly increase in revenue. The company had asked for an increase of $34,668. Ottawa Telephone operates about 1,700 telephones in the northwestern Ohio Village of Ottawa.

Mount Vernon Physician Called 'Doctor to World'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Doctor to the world.

That's what he is called. He is Dr. Harry Willis Miller, a native of Miami County, Ohio, who has spent more than half his 60 years of professional life among the Oriental peoples, with friends on both sides of the bamboo curtain.

Dr. Miller was in Columbus this week, en route to Mount Vernon, his home between stints in Formosa and Hong Kong.

At 82 hale and hearty, his ruddy complexion, lively step and firm handshake belie his years, Dr. Miller is looking forward to returning this fall to Hong Kong to continue his work, now centered on building a hospital.

Dr. Miller is known throughout the world as a nutritionist and surgeon. But his accomplishments are many.

Asked to give his own appraisal of his work, he said modestly:

"My patients would probably say my most important contribution is as a surgeon. But I pick nutrition."

Dr. Miller turned his back on a $250,000 inheritance in 1911 to return to work he started in China in 1903. During those years his research discovered a way to make milk from the soybean, a principal crop in food-starved China.

That soy milk, nutritionists say, is saving countless lives of infants and adults around the world. In Hong Kong, more Miller soy milk is sold than soda pop. He returns all royalties (totaling 2 1/4 million so far) and fees back to research and building hospitals.

Dr. Miller and his wife returned to the United States last month, his return coinciding with the publishing of a book, "China Doctor," by Harper Bros., introduced in New York City May 1.

"China Doctor," written by Dr. Raymond S. Moore, vice president for development of the College of Medical Evangelists in Los Angeles, is the amazing story of Harry Willis Miller.

Writing of him in Reader's Digest, Dr. Clarence Hall, senior editor, calls him a "towering figure . . . in the inspiring tradition of such all-time greats as Livingstone, Judson and Paton."

The lifeline from Dr. Miller in the Orient to his work in Mount Vernon is kept operating by his son, Harry Jr., who helped his father develop soy milk and has developed the machinery to produce it all over the world. His work is in behalf of the Seventh Day Adventists denomination.

The son, who for five years was with the United Nations, lives in Mount Vernon where Dr. and Mrs. Miller will stay until they return to Hong Kong.

As a surgeon, Dr. Miller has performed more than 18,000 operations among China's poor and rich a third of them thyroid surgery, a scourge in the East.

Personal physician to leaders of the Chinese Republic from Sun Yat-Sen to Chiang Kai-Shek, Dr. Miller also was consulting physician to Presidents Taft, Harding and Wilson, and personal physician to William Jennings Bryan, Alexander Graham Bell, numerous senators and ambassadors.

He served on Herbert Hoover's American Relief Administration during World War I. Seventeen hospitals in China, Formosa and Hong Kong are some of the memorials he has built. He said of the future:

"I can't retire. I must return to Hong Kong and my work."

Kennedy To Sign Latin Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will sign a $500 million appropriation bill today to start his "alliance for progress" plan for Latin America.

The bill also sets aside $100 million to help Chile rebuild from its 1960 earthquakes.

Kennedy says the $500 million will help with social improvement in Latin America and lead to what he called "a decade of democratic progress."

The bulk of the $500 million is expected to be pledged for loans within the next few weeks or months. Over 200 loan requests—for land reform, housing, water supply and roads—already have been submitted.

Former students of Hazard High School will present her with a ticket to Great Britain plus traveling expenses at a dinner in her honor June 2.

Driver Flees After Crash, Damage Heavy

Sheriff's deputies were searching today for the driver of a car involved in a collision with a parked auto and a cherry tree at 12:45 a. m. today about four miles south west of Circleville at the intersection of the Canal and Westfall Rds.

Officers said the vehicle skidded approximately 190 feet on the Westfall Rd., failed to negotiate a curve and crashed into the rear of a parked car belonging to James E. Jones, Route 2.

The careening car slid into the ditch, sheared off a mailbox and post and splintered several yards of wooden picket fencing on the Jones property.

The vehicle finally halted after crashing into a cherry tree.

THE driver, according to Jones, jumped from the wrecked car and fled on foot down the highway.

A check by officers revealed that the car's license tags had been stolen March 3 from James White, Route 3. The car was impounded by the Sheriff and removed to a wrecking yard.

Initial investigation produced no indication of the whereabouts of the missing motorist.

Damage to the Jones auto was listed as heavy. The hit-skip vehicle was demolished according to deputies.

Wise Is Man Slow Stowing Winter Duds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Wise is the Ohioan who was slow in stowing his winter duds this year.

A large mound of cold air, centered over the Midwest this morning, resulted in extremely low temperatures with readings near the freezing mark in many portions.

At dawn skies were mostly clear except in the extreme east and northeast.

Fair and dry weather is in store for the state over the weekend with temperatures not quite so cool for tonight and mild temperatures for Sunday afternoon.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 33 at Toledo to 41 at Cleveland. Other readings included Zanesville 38 and Columbus 34.

The low at Columbus establishes a new low for the date which was previously 38 in 1949 and was also the lowest temperature recorded so late in the spring.

The late spring cold wave extended as far south as Alabama and Mississippi and westward into northwest California and most of Oregon.

Birmingham, Ala., had a reading of 44 degrees breaking a 60-year record and Jackson, Miss., had 49, smashing a mark 36 years old.

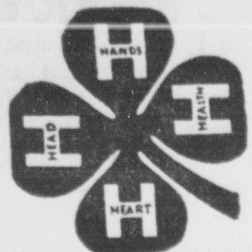

Anxious farmers throughout the North kept an eye on garden and orchard crops well advanced in some sections because of recent 70 and 80-degree weather.

The mercury dipped below freezing in northwest lower Michigan with Pollen reporting a low of 28 degrees.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Prices paid for market hogs averaged 15 cents higher than last week at $17.55 per 100 pounds, the State Agriculture Department reports.

4-H Club News

By EDWIN D. TAYLOR
Associate County Extension Agent

4-H clubs all over the county are now selecting contestants to enter in the county health contest. Each club may submit the name of one member to the County Extension Office before the June 1 deadline.

Contestants must be 14-years-old by January 1, 1961, and must have at least three years of 4-H club work to qualify. Having a good health background, good personal habits and being from a 4-H club with varied and good health activities will enable the contestant to have a good chance of winning.

All entrants in the county health contest will be interviewed by the Extension Agents at the Extension Office in June. From the 4-Hers interviewed, five girls and five boys will be selected to have a physical examination by a doctor at a later date.

From both interviews and examinations the winning boy and girl will be selected to represent Pickaway County at the Ohio State Fair. The winning boy and girl in the county receive trophies. The State Fair winner will receive a trip to National 4-H Club Congress.

Don't forget — all contestants names must be in before June 1.

Inoculations Help Soybeans

Process Will Provide Atmospheric Nitrogen

By ROBERT KIRK
Extension Trainee

Farmers can obtain atmospheric nitrogen for their soybeans by inoculating them. The inoculation process consists of mixing the seeds with the correct strain of bacteria culture before the seeds are planted.

Soon after soybeans begin to grow, the legume bacteria invade the root hairs. They multiply in large numbers. The soybean plant forms growths on the roots called nodules. The bacteria live in these nodules and do their beneficial work.

A definite partnership is established. The soybean plant furnishes the necessary sugar for energy. The bacteria use this energy to change the free nitrogen of the atmosphere into a form the plant can assimilate and use to build protein. The nitrogen is said to be fixed.

The quantity of nitrogen taken from the air and fixed by the bacteria for soybeans is difficult to calculate. It varies with (1) the effectiveness of the bacteria, (2) the soil conditions, and (3) the presence of necessary plant-food elements other than nitrogen.

IN HIGHER fertility soils, well supplied with available nitrogen, little or no fixation may occur as the plants seem to use the available nitrogen rather than encourage the bacteria to fix more. Most noticeable results from soybean inoculation are obtained on soils of average fertility or depleted soils.

Those factors, exclusive of nitrogen, that make for optimum growth of soybeans play an important part in increasing the quantity of nitrogen that is fixed. Usually a combination of growth factors reacting favorably governs how much nitrogen is fixed. Different investigators have reported that soybeans fix about 58 pounds of nitrogen per acre on the average.

The cost of inoculating soybeans will be 10 to 20 cents per acre, depending on the method of planting and the planting rate. If you were to choose to plant the amount of nitrogen the soybeans would fix rather than inoculate them, the costs would be approximately $1.50 per acre, assuming you use ammonium nitrate.

As you can see, inoculating soybeans is an economically sound practice.

Insect Alerts

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

Tent Caterpillar: (To areas in Eastern Ohio) Home - owners should search out nearby nests in wild cherry, apple and some shade trees in the evenings in early May. A stream of insecticide spray at this time, penetrating the nest, will kill the insects while they are most susceptible.

The Red Headed Pine Sawfly: The red headed pine sawfly attacks Christmas tree plantations as well as ornamental pines, doing damage from mid-May on. It will pay to check for their presence. The control is two tablespoons 50 per cent DDT wettable powder, or four tablespoons lead arsenate per one gallon of water.

Cattle Medicine Shipment Seized

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Division of Food and Dairys has embargoed a shipment of petro-mycin tablets used in veterinary work, Agriculture Director Robert H. Terhune announced today.

The tablets, used for the treatment of lungworm in cattle, were seized in North Olmstead Thursday, Terhune said.

Terhune said the tablets were supposed to contain 8.125 milligrams of neomycin sulphate. However, some tablets were found to contain only 2.19 milligrams of this substance, equivalent to one quarter of the potency declared on the label, Terhune said.

The seized shipment contained 19 bottles of 500 tablets and 102 bottles of 100 tabs.

Has your husband ever asked you, "Well, what have you done all day?" Have you and your family ever stopped to think of how many jobs you, as a homemaker, must do?

Recently a letter came to my desk describing the many different positions a homemaker may hold in a day or week or month. Check the list to see how many persons you during the day.

Secretary - Treasurer — write business letters, keep family accounts, pay bills.

Chief Chef — plan menus and prepare meals.

Purchasing Agent — buy groceries, clothing, furnishings and countless other items every family needs and wants.

Laundress — gather, sort, wash clothes; iron; care for drip-dry.

Nurse — take temperatures, soothe fretful children, prepare hot water bottles and ice packs, bandage cut fingers and skinned knees.

Teacher — guide the many things children learn at home; develop interest in books, music, nature and other activities.

Seamstress — sew on buttons, make patches, mend rips, construct new garments.

If you are a good manager, you can keep one activity from demanding more than its fair share of time and effort. Carrying out your family's plan in a way that brings the most satisfaction to everyone results in the kind of family life every member wants.

Pickaway Grange

SCIOTO VALLEY

The Scioto Valley Grange meeting Tuesday was called to order by Worthy Master H. A. Bumgarner.

Two applications for membership were read.

Mrs. Paul Peters, Remembrance chairman, stated she had sent a card of congratulation to Mr. and Mrs. John Swingle of El Paso, Texas on the birth of their baby.

House Bill 38, the much discussed Health Bill, was recently voted down by the State Legislature. The bill concerning the taxing of trailers was passed. Trailers are now to be taxed the same as other property. John Dowler explained the Bills 37, 38, 289 and 369.

Memorial service was held for the two departed members, Mrs. Edna Dunnick and Mrs. Flossie Moss.

Worthy Lecturer, Hal Richards entertained by showing pictures, taken while on his trip to California. Many views were shown of the Grand Canyon, Disneyland and the Rose Bowl parade.

The hospitality committee, with Mrs. Mae Payne as chairman, served a dessert course. The tables were decorated with beautiful flowers.

Members who attend the grange meetings regularly are those who get the most out of the grange.

A good attendance is desired at the next meeting at 8:30 p. m. June 13.

Ten million persons are employed in the United States in storing and merchandising of agricultural products.

State Finance Director Hit By Fellow Cabinet Member

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eyebrows shot up as members of the Republican-dominated State Finance Committee heard the state finance department criticized by a top DiSalle administration official.

Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch was beefing about the way Finance Director James H. Maloon set up the liquor department budget in the pending appropriations bill.

Crouch didn't mince words in saying the net result gave him a million dollars less to run his department. He figured the cut would force dismissal of about 240 liquor store clerks.

Crouch also groused about Maloon's action in jacking up the department's own estimate of liquor sales in the next two years by a whopping $18 million.

Crouch wondered aloud how the state monopoly system could sell that much more liquor with fewer employees to serve the public. He didn't attempt to explain Maloon's optimistic sales estimate.

Profits from liquor sales go into the state treasury. That might have a bearing on Maloon's difficulty earlier this year in making anticipated revenues cover the state's two-year-operating budget.

Hundreds of proposals for new laws might lead you to think that almost everyone wants to get into the legislative act.

But bills, like footballs, often take funny bounces. Such vagaries cause many who want statutes changed to hesitate about "opening up the field."

An example of what can happen occurred during House debate over a bill to abolish the oath and $1 fee required of those taking civil service exams for state and county jobs.

The relatively simple measure became embroiled in amendments to amendments.

After eight rollcalls, the bill wound up with the oath reinserted and an anti-Communist clause added. The loyalty oath requires applicants to say whether they ever belonged to an organization advocating violent overthrow of the government.

Sponsors of the bill from the State Department of Personnel termed the oaths a nuisance and described collection of the $1 fee from applicants a worrisome chore.

Eventually the bill headed for the Senate and further possible changes.

House members passed and sent to the Senate an emergency bill to qualify Ohio for a $10 million dollar federal highway bonus that critics likened to a pot of gold at the end of a rainbow.

The emergency clause, to make the measure effective upon enactment, was inserted to beat June 30 qualifying deadline for bonus money to states gearing billboard control laws to federal regulations for interstate highways.

Critics asserted that no states have received any bonus money since the original federal billboard ban was enacted in 1956 and pointed out that promises will expire unless Congress extends next month's deadline.

"There's nothing worse than getting a telephone call while baking a cake, taking a bath or a nap," says a feminine state representative.

Rep. Bernice K. MacKenzie, D-Stark, made the assertion during a hearing by the House Judiciary Committee on a pending bill to ban mass solicitations by phone. She told the committee that more people commended her for backing the measure than any she has sponsored during three terms in the House.

The attractive widow lives in Canton with her father, C. J. Kephlinger, a widower.

Reminded by an opponent that such a law might curb political campaigns by telephone, Mrs. MacKenzie asserted "that would be all right with me."

She recalled that six phone calls were made to her home on an election eve in behalf of the same candidate and that interest waned with each solicitation.

Co-sponsoring the bill with Mrs. MacKenzie are Reps. Jesse Yoder, D-Montgomery, and Lytle G. Zuber and Keith McNamara, both Franklin County Republicans.

Sen. John C. Smith D-Montgomery, reported similar sentiment against mass telephone solicitations in his southwestern Ohio district.

Tabulating about 7,000 answers to a poll on legislative issues conducted in personally financed newspaper ads in this area, Smith said 5,253 opposed phone solicitations, 1,567 were for them and 527 registered no opinion.

Facts Listed On Roundworms

Ascarid Eggs Multiply In Vast Quantities

By DALE MCNELLY
Extension Trainee

If one female can produce 26 million eggs, how many eggs are produced by the numerous female roundworms in one hog?

It is almost impossible to find the answer to this question, but today's swine producers must constantly be on guard against the large intestinal roundworm which is sometimes called the ascarid.

The life cycle of the ascarid is somewhat complicated as it is completed inside and outside of the hog's body. Briefly, the cycle starts as the roundworm eggs are eliminated from the intestine with the droppings. These eggs undergo development and then they are eaten by other hogs as these hogs root in the infected soil or as they are fed under filthy conditions.

The young worms hatch in the intestine and enter the blood stream of the hog. They travel through the heart and finally into the lungs. Here they get into the air passages and crawl up to the hog's mouth to be swallowed. After being swallowed, the young worms mature to adults in the intestine and start the cycle over again.

MANY treatments have been devised to break the life cycle of the roundworm. A few of these treatments are the feeding of sodium fluoide, phenothiazine, piperazine and hygromycin.

These drugs are designed to kill the young and adult worms which happen to be in the intestine when the treatment is given. This does not destroy the young worms in the blood stream and the lung passages.

The most effective way for the farmer to combat the roundworm is to control the costly parasite. This can be and is done by hog producers who follow the sanitation system of swine management developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This system is the result of scientific investigations carried out in cooperation with farmers.

This management system, when carried out properly, will not only control roundworms, but it will also control many other parasites which infect swine. The system consists mainly of "cleanliness" and proper use of disinfectants and drugs in feeding, housing and transporting swine from farrowing quarters to pasture.

The adoption of this system will not only rid your hogs of internal parasites, but will also put more dollars into your pocket.

Harsha Reports

Latin America Foreign Aid Stems from 'Castro Jitters'

Congressman William H. Harsha Jr. (R-Ohio) has criticized Congress for approving the $600 million dollar foreign aid program for Latin America.

The Eisenhower Administration had made the agreement last Fall with the Latin American countries to provide them $500 million dollars in economic aid and had recommended that Congress enact the necessary legislation. The understanding was, however, that there would be a complete justification for this expenditure and a program as to how the money was to be applied and spent. According to Harsha, to date no such program or justification has been provided.

Federal Deficit Due To Grow

$3.5 Billion in Red Seen if Plans OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal budget will be more than $3.5 billion in the red next fiscal year if Congress approves President Kennedy's plan to spend more on space research defense, foreign aid and other programs.

Kennedy two months ago forecast a deficit of $2.8 billion, assuming action by Congress to boost postal rates.

The programs advocated by Kennedy Thursday in a special message to Congress would add $724 million to spending in the 1962 fiscal year which begins July 1. There would be a corresponding increase in the deficit.

In addition, Kennedy said a later message will call for more funds for civil defense. Officials estimated this might add another $70 million or so to next year's spending total.

Treasury experts haven't made any significant changes in their March prediction that fiscal 1962 revenues will total $81.4 billion. However, the Kennedy programs so far announced would boost spending to a peacetime high of more than $85 billion.

Spending also would be increased in future years. While outlays in fiscal 1962 would be hiked by $724 million under the recommendations made Thursday, nearly $1.6 billion would be appropriated with the difference being spent in later years.

Kennedy told Congress his recommendation would not require any increase in taxes.

Kennedy forecast the economy would reach new highs in the coming months and said, "The recession has been halted, recovery is under way."

However, he said solution of the unemployment problem will continue to present a serious challenge.

W. D. Benson Assigned to Medina Post

W. D. Benson, veteran State Highway Patrolman here, has been transferred to the OSP post at Medina.

Patrolman Benson, who lives at 896 Lincoln Drive, has been stationed in Circleville and Pickaway County for about five years. He was assigned here July 1, 1956.

The patrolman came to Circleville after serving several years at St. Mary's. He has a total of 13 years service with the patrol.

Benson, his wife and their four sons plan to move to Medina in the near future. His duty there starts June 1.

He hails from Vinton County. He also has a brother serving with the State Highway Patrol.

Benson was a member of the Pickaway County Historical Society and was associated with the Circleville Fraternal Order of Police.

He is the last of three patrolmen serving here for several years before being transferred. Patrolmen James Cooper and Gene Miller received new assignments previously. Robert Ely, here about two years, remains at the local Post No. 65 on S. Court St.

The Post No. 65 roster now has one sergeant, one corporal, six assigned patrolmen and one patrolman who will be assigned in the near future.

The Circleville post is headed by Sgt. S. L. Adomaitis of Grove City. Second in command is Cpl. S. J. Hobar of Columbus.

Assigned patrolmen are: D. A. Aller who plans to move into a home on E. Union St.; C. D. Wolfinger, Grove City; Patrolman Ely, 1117 McGraw Road; R. L. Saunders, John St.; and R. E. Carson, 130 Seyfert Ave. Slated for duty here soon is J. R. Prather.

No Tax Easing Seen

Another lesson in why temporary taxes become permanent has been given the taxpayer — in this case the motoring taxpayer — by the U. S. House of Representatives. That body has sent to the Senate a measure designed to retain the present four cents a gallon federal gasoline tax until 1972, supposed to be the completion date for the national highway program, instead of permitting it to expire on June 30.

Two years ago Congress faced the embarrassing fact that the federal highway program's cost had been grossly underestimated and construction on much of the 41,000-mile project would be halted if more funds were not allocated.

The permanent three cents a gallon federal gasoline tax was then increased to four cents with the provision that the additional cent be allowed to expire this year. In addition, $800 million was to be diverted from the general fund each year for three years to defray some of the increased expenditures for the highway program.

Although opposed by both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations, the $800 million annual appropriation from the general fund really represents additional motoring taxes collected as excise duties on automotive sales and parts. Now, one month before the "temporary" penny per gallon tax is to be removed, the House passes this alternate proposal to the Senate:

Retain the four cent per gallon gasoline tax and make it permanent for the life of the highway program. Increase the present 10 per cent excise tax on automobiles and repair parts and earmark most of the increase for the highway fund. Reduce the general fund contribution to $150 million a year.

Instead of a temporary program to help what was called an unanticipated financial difficulty stemming from extraordinarily high beginning costs of the highway project, the House now says a permanent increase of $900 million a year is needed for the life of the program. And there is no assurance whatever that the year 1972 will indeed be the end of it.

Drug Addiction Problem Remains

One subdivision of the United Nations which has produced more satisfaction than disappointment is the narcotics division. In the last several years this international undertaking has breached hostilities of opposing world camps and provided a respected source of information on a field of illicit traffic which recognizes no national boundaries.

Drug addiction remains a problem in the United States, although the country has a better equipped counter attack than most. In countries which either do not accept the Western policy of regarding drug addiction as a plague on humanity, or do not have the resources to fight it aggressively, manufacturing of drugs for the underworld and number of narcotics addicts are on the rise.

Because narcotics production, distribution and consumption is very much an international problem, a rise in illicit drug activity anywhere usually results in flare-ups thousands of miles away.

All parts of the world contribute to the supply of illicit drugs, from Indian hemp to opium and morphine from China and Mexico. Higher living standards and greater prosperity make the United States a prime target.

There is high profit in narcotics trading on the black market which feeds a complicated underground network. Air transport increases the ease of filling supply lines and the underworld network. Air transport increases the ease of filling supply lines and the underworld value of small quantities of drugs contributes to smuggling ingenuity. The UN has no power to arrest or interference in domestic control of the traffic, but it does have the advantage of world publicity.

Pointing a finger at the weakest links in the control of the international narcotics traffic for all the world to see can be a powerful stimulant for correction.

Details Often Are Withheld

By George Sokolsky

For some reason, often of a sudden, more and more public officials are proposing some form of censorship of the press. Apparently, they are becoming increasingly fearful that the people will, in due course, know what goes on and will protest. Such a protest could swell into anger.

An angry people can do unpleasant things to politicians, particularly in this country. They can and usually do throw them out of office.

John A. Fanning, a member of the National Labor Relations Board, was making a speech before the Southern Newspaper Executives' Clinic. He said that the N.L.R.B. tries to conduct bargaining rights elections without undue pressure. In a word, he prefers a vacuum.

Fanning did not say so, but he apparently believes that only management and labor are concerned in a strike situation. He does not recognize that the consumer is equally affected by the outcome: that the general public is worried what a strike will do to the town, to the small businessmen, to grocers, butchers, beauticians, etc.

Fanning, not being concerned with the public interest, can say: "In the midst of labor disputes, the immediate parties may be torn by various loyalties, desires and even fears. They may look for guidance to any voice that speaks with authority — and the editorial page is such a voice."

Apparently, because the newspaper may speak in the name of the public interest and may be believed, the newspapers should be silent, should say nothing about what may be the most important question before that particular community.

The report does not say that those who attended this meeting of newspaper executives booed and hissed this bureaucrat when he proposed that newspapers be silent about the news. The probability is that when Fanning was through with his speech, he was duly applauded and perhaps even invited to dinner.

There is too little anger in this country, too few of us who have decided not to listen to nonsense, not to be pushed around by politicians and bureaucrats.

Too many of us sit back and applaud whatever we listen to, even if it does not provide the truth in the news "guidance" in understanding the course of events? Is it just a jumble of words and pictures that are unrelated to each other and that provide neither meaning nor guidance?

It is because of lack of indignation on the part of our people that the تهران papers have not yet been published. It is because of lack of indignation that the American people do not yet have the whole story of what happened in Cuba. Senator Gore opened the window a little bit but not enough to give the American people a full view of the confusion and had thinking that produced what has come popularly to be called the Cuban Flasco.

But what about the Laotian Flasco and the Korean Flasco? How many flascos must we have before Congress asks for a public explanation? Executive sessions hide nothing from our enemies; they were there and know what happened. Executive sessions of a congressional committee only fool the American people. They make them believe that much is being done; actually nothing is done about errors, stupidities, political back scratching until the public gets very angry. And the public only gets angry when the press tells the whole story, honestly and completely. The Cuban story has not yet been told honestly and completely.

Whenever a public official wants the press to establish any form of censorship, his plea is not in the public interest. Freedom is preserved only through the people, and the people have the moral and constitutional right to know what is being done to their country by their officials. Anyone who brings the truth to the surface is performing a service — no matter how ugly the truth may be. Suppression and censorship, voluntary, are evils in a republic.

Fortunately, we have a veritable press which consists not only of newspapers, but includes magazines, radio and television and other media of communications and therefore, it is very difficult really to suppress the generality of the truth, but the details often are withheld. That is why the تهران papers have not been published.

You're Telling Me!

Thrifty Ben Franklin certainly would have loved today's youngsters! In New York state alone, it has just been reported, pupils have some $56.7 million on deposit in school savings accounts!

In his childhood, says Grandpa Jenkins, he, too, had to be a financial genius. He had to make his weekly dime allowance cover an ice cream cone and a trip to the nickelodeon!

Fifty-six million dollars! Gosh laid end-to-end how many sticks of bubble gum would that be? — or, bubble-to-bubble?

An article in the Solicitors' Journal, British publication for the legal profession, estimates London motorists during the last year have torn up a total of $84,000 worth of parking tickets. Everybody it would seem, is having a ripping time — except the cops.

The Mexborough, England, town council has recently established special dressing rooms for its street cleaners. So — brush up, boys!

Throughout June, we learn, weddings will be performed by justices of the peace in Missouri's Meramec Caverns, for free. So, kids, if you want to get hitched and keep it a deep secret here's the chance!

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

HORACE GREELEY was a great editor. He also had a terrible temper—and a worse handwriting. One day he wrote a torrid note dismissing from the New York Tribune a member of the staff who had fallen down completely on three big stories in a row.

Greeley didn't see the culprit again for years, but he recognized him at once and mused, "Let's see, didn't I get mad at you once and send you packing?"

"That you did," smiled the other. "Your letter blistered my hide off. But nobody could read it. I told the next editor I approached that it was the warmest recommendation you ever had written in your life. He believed me, gave me a job—and now I own the paper. I'm really deeply indebted to you, Mr. Greeley."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Attention, all citizens! Be on the lookout for the mushroom crowd, alias toadstools!

Approach with caution; these mushrooms are dangerous.

Description follows — A. Phalloides, alias "The Death Cup". Height about 3 inches. White to brownish complexion, with umbrella-shaped head. Underside of head covered with hundreds of white umbrella ribs. White seed-like spores hang from each foot of stalk, surrounded by whitish poison cup. Likes to frequent shady wooded areas.

A. Muscarina, alias "The Fly". Height about 3 inches, with red to yellow complexion.

Bald top covered with thick dark druff. Spores — white. Scaly stalk with bulb-shaped cup around foot. Likes to frequent roadside greenery and shady wooded areas.

Keep young bottom-shaped mushrooms under surveillance for one week or until large enough for positive identification.

Both mushrooms are wanted for murder. "The Fly" poisons its victim within minutes, paralyzing vital heart muscles. Victim doubles up with severe abdominal cramps and breathes heavily. Eyes tear, mouth waters and skin sweats.

"The Death Cup" strikes more slowly — often waiting up to six or ten hours. Uses rattlesnake-like poison which eats through blood vessels.

Abdominal cramps complicated by blood and mucus. After a few days, poisoned liver causes jaundice and damaged kidneys shut down.

Empty victim's stomach at once — push finger down throat, if necessary. Give epsom salts or similar cathartic to purge poison down intestine.

Transport victim to nearest hospital, along with any remaining mushroom killers. The doctor will want to make identification before starting treatment.

Relay following message to all: (1) Pick mushrooms at local supermarket only, unless competent expert makes field identification.

(2) Do not eat innocent mushrooms that show decay, milky fluid or areas eaten by insects. Corrections to previous information:

(1) Poisonous mushrooms cannot be identified by tarnishing effect on silverware.

(2) Brightly-colored mushrooms can be innocent.

Relay on official descriptions only. Request everyone prevent poison problem from mushrooming this summer.

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

'Freedom Rides' Said Only One Step

NEW YORK (AP)—The "Freedom" rides aimed at desegregating Southern bus terminals are but one step of a Negro drive to wipe out discrimination entirely in the United States, headquarters of the Congress of Racial Equality reported today.

"Our long-range objective is a society of brothers, the complete elimination of racial and religious discrimination," Marvin Rich, CORE's director of community relations, told a newsman.

Air and rail terminals were mentioned Thursday by James Farmer, CORE leader, as objectives along with the bus terminals.

The drive already has applied to lunch counters, drug stores and department stores.

ALPINE ADVENTURE — This is an artist's conception of Victor Mature, as an ancient Carthaginian warrior-hero, leading his elephant-mounted army into battle after crossing the Alps. It's all part of the film "Hannibal", which plays Sunday and Monday at the North Auto Theater. Also on the bill are Burt Lancaster and Audrey Hepburn in "The Unforgiven."

Business Women Conduct Legislation Meeting

The Legislation committee was in charge of the meeting when the Business and Professional Women's Club met Thursday in the Methodist Church Annex.

The business meeting was conducted by Dr. Nancy Lu Conrad, president. It was announced that registration slips are being distributed to local merchants for registration of all bicycles when a new one is sold. A report was given on the activities of the Historical Society by Mrs. Anna Chandler.

A report on the State Convention of the B & PW Clubs in Toledo was given by Miss Daisy Karleskint and Dr. Conrad who attended. The local club was awarded two citations for "Enrollment of Youth" and "Conducting a Membership Survey". There were more than 1,000 Business and Professional Women in attendance at the convention.

The dinner on Saturday night was held in the Sports Arena at Toledo with Dr. George Alexander Bowie, director of G. A. Bowie Associates, Public Relations Counselor of Firestone Tire & Rubber Company using "Saints or Sinners" as his topic for the address.

The new state officers for the Business Women for the 1961-62 year are Miss Marian Weinland, Dayton, president; Mrs. Margaret Alyce Avery, Eaton, 1st vice president; Mrs. Mary Ellen Hovrup, Port Clinton, 2nd vice president; Miss Elmira Hannaford, Cincinnati, 3rd vice president; Miss Martha Vuckley, Cleveland, recording secretary; Miss Helen Slavens, Washington C. H., treasurer; Mrs. Ethel Cowan, Xenia, auditor.

The State Convention for 1962 will be held in Cleveland in May.

It was announced the next meeting of the local club will be June 22 with a dinner meeting in the Methodist Church. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Esther Work no later than June 19. At this meeting there will be reports received from all officers and committee chairmen. Initiation of new members and installation of new officers for the coming year will be conducted.

The program was in charge of the legislation committee which presented an audience participation skit. A mock bill was presented and was traced through the House and Senate and passed on to the Governor for signing or vetoing.

This was enjoyed by all members. It let them know what actions are taken in initiating a law and having it pass through the law making bodies of our state.

Refreshments were served by the legislation committee composed of Miss Beverly Southward, chairman, and Mrs. Elaine Poling, Mrs. Eva Johnson and Mrs. Ruth George.

Shrug Your Shoulders

The sun isn't fun all the time. Whether darling daughter goes near the water or not, she had best shrug off some of it, some of the time if she knows what's good for her complexion.

Since bathing suits do not cover as much of the subject as they could, the well dressed beach miss must cover the rest herself. The newest idea in a beach jacket, therefore, as a well named shrug.

A shrug reaches at least from elbow to elbow with sleeves wide enough to give the breeze a break. Taking a really close look, as a matter of fact, you find that the design is mostly one long sleeve with a neckhole in the middle.

Happily shrugs are as easily homegrown as a shawl, almost. Thanks to big needles and bulky yarns, the rows add up fast enough to finish one in time for the heat of the season.

A bright knitter can stitch up a variety of styles, improvising as she goes along. Giddy gauzy colors, the kookie kinds which require sun glasses to look at are cinches. But easier are feminine pastel hues which flatter tans.

Knitting instructions are available through the National Hand Knitted Yarn Association, 15 E. 25th St., New York.

Gardener's Special

Welcome your hubby from an afternoon of lawn mowing and hedge-trimming with this Radiant Relish Platter. It's light, refreshing and nutritious and will hit the spot on a warm summer evening.

The dressing, made with a velvety smooth mayonnaise and rich cream cheese, is a perfect accompaniment for the relishes—and tastes good as a sandwich spread, too.

Along with the Relish Platter, treat your gardener to thick slices of ham and cheese and hard rolls.

Radiant Relish Platter

- 1 cup Kraft Mayonnaise
- 1 3-oz. pkg. Philadelphia Brand Cream Cheese
- 2 tbsp. sliced green onions
- Lettuce
- Cooked shrimp
- Red onion slices
- Celery hearts
- Tomato wedges
- Green onions

Gradually blend mayonnaise into cream cheese. Add the sliced onions and mix well. Place in a bowl in the center of a lettuce covered platter. Radiate the shrimp and remaining vegetables around the dressing.

Kingston News Report

By Miss Margaret Thomas
Phone NI 2-3495

A family gathering with a basket dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Davis Sunday. Mrs. Davis' brother, John Waters, was a guest. He was returning to Phoenix, Ariz., from Harvard University.

Others of the family group were Mrs. John Waters, Circleville; Mrs. Helen Allison, John and Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kibler and Patty all of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Waters, Nancy, Gary Mike and Gayle and Miss Bea Riley of Columbus; Mrs. Lowell Fish, Gallipolis; Mrs. Martin Hash, Marty and Gwen of Bidwell; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Evans, Robin, Stephen, Deborah and Bobby of Rio Grande; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Evans and Andy of Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fish and Cordelia and Jimmy and Kristi Davis of Kingston.

Mrs. Myrtle Routt, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Click and son, Todd Alan of Chillicothe visited relatives and friends in Kingston Saturday evening.

The Ne Plus Ultra Class will hold a benefit bake sale for the MYF camp fund June 17. The date was incorrectly listed in an earlier report.

Baptismal services were held at the Presbyterian Church recently for five babies by the pastor, Rev. Robert Dulaney. The following were baptized.

David Kelley Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thoburn Orr, Carlton Lynn Hohenstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Hohenstein, David Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wolf, Kimberly Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rainey, and Julie Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Reisinger.

Richard Routt was one of 40 officers from the Chillicothe Reformatory who were called to Montgomery, Ala., where they served as deputy U. S. Marshalls.

Mrs. Lyman Dresbach left Saturday for Norwich, Conn., to spend two weeks with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lloyd Dresbach.

A baby boy was born to the Dresbachs, May 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boggs and sons, John and Ned, and Mrs. Robert Smith of Circleville left Kingston Sunday morning to drive to Denver, Colorado. They attended the graduating exercises of the Loretto Heights College Wednesday. Miss Betsy Boggs received her Bachelor of Science degree in nursing.

Following graduation, the family will enjoy a vacation in Yellowstone National Park, before returning home.

Miss Boggs will work as a nurse at Camp Woodenhaven this summer.

Mrs. Royce Conaway and son, Mike, spent the weekend with Mr. Conaway in Cincinnati, where he is presently employed.

Mrs. Lawrence Kerns and Mrs. Preston Beeman spent Wednesday at the Beeman's cabin near Londonderry. Their families joined them in the evening for a picnic supper.

The Kerns' spent the weekend at their cottage by Buckeye Lake.

Baccalaureate services and commencement exercises will be held Sunday in the Kingston Union High School. Rev. Robert Dulaney, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will deliver the baccalaureate address at 2 p. m.

The speaker at commencement exercises at 8 p. m. will be Chet Long of WBNS TV.

The Inspection of Kingston Chapter, OES will be held during a special meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Ignorance Is Not Bliss!

DEAR ABBY: We have been invited to a Catholic wedding but my husband doesn't want to go because he says we will have to go through all that crossing and kneeling, and we aren't Catholics. I say that non-Catholics are not expected to do that. Who is right? Also, we were recently invited to a Jewish wedding and we passed that up because someone told my husband that all the men had to break their glasses. What about that?

INFORMATION PLEASE
DEAR INFORMATION: Non-Catholics are not expected to kneel and cross themselves. And at a Jewish wedding, the groom breaks a GLASS (not his glasses). There is little excuse for knowing so little about another person's religion. Ask any clergyman (or librarian) for an enlightening book on the subject.

DEAR ABBY: I am a mother-in-law who needs you to set her straight. My son married a girl whom I love very much. She is very close to her own mother, who lives near us. I try to let the young people live their own lives, but my daughter-in-law practically lives with her mother. They are together day and night.

The young couple is always over at her mother's. All holidays are spent there. They are expecting a baby and the wife's mother is gathering the baby things at her home, evidently expecting to take full charge of it. I know I am jealous but I can't help it. Let me have it, Abby.

"THE OTHER MOM"
Dear "Mom": If you can diagnose your own case (jealousy), you can heal yourself. Let your daughter-in-law do as she wishes. It's natural for a girl to gravitate toward her own mother. When she matures a little more, she will become as considerate of your feelings as you are of hers. Patience, Mom.

DEAR ABBY: There is a young couple in our building who has aroused our suspicions. He clerks during the day, and on week-ends he plays band jobs out of town. His wife is a real looker. Every week-end when he goes out of town to play these band jobs, she goes with him. We wives say that she goes with him because she can't trust him away from home. Our husbands say that he takes her along because he can't trust HER home alone. We would like to know your opinion, please.

FOLKS IN THE BUILDING
DEAR FOLKS: Isn't there a chance that she goes with him—and he encourages her because he wants her there?

Spahn Downs Dodgers for 293rd Victory

Giants Defeat Cubs To Extend Lead in National Loop Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southpaw Warren Spahn, beating the Dodgers two times in one season for the first time in 10 years, gained the 293rd victory of his National League career as the Milwaukee Braves rapped Los Angeles 10-2 Friday night. First place San Francisco defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 13 innings and picked up a full game over both Los Angeles and Pittsburgh, virtually tied for second, when the Pirates were whipped 12-2 at St. Louis.

Philadelphia's game at Cincinnati was postponed because of cold.

In the American League, Detroit's lead was shaved to three games when the Los Angeles beat the Tigers 5-4. Washington defeated Minnesota 4-3 in the only other game played. Kansas City-Cleveland, Chicago-New York and Boston-Baltimore were postponed because of rain and cold.

Spahn, now 5-3, nailed his sixth complete game while allowing seven hits, three of them bunt singles. The fifth place Braves backing Spahn with four double plays, also had seven hits, but two were home runs. Frank Thomas hit the 200th of his career, a two-run jolt, and the other was a solo shot by Hank Aaron, when he was saved by his plastic helmet when hit by a pitch by loser Stan Williams (3-3).

The Dodgers are .003 behind Pittsburgh on a percentage basis, but because of a difference in games played, they trail San Francisco by only 1 1/2 games while the Pirates are two games back of the Giants.

Ken Boyer, after going 15 games without driving in a run for the Cardinals, hit a pair of homers and collected six RBI against the Cubs. He hit a three-run shot that wrapped it up in the first inning against Bob Friend (5-5), who now has lost five in a row as a starter. The Pirates had 10 hits, just one less than St. Louis, but gave up five unearned runs on six errors. Southpaw Curt Simmons (2-3) won it, pitching his first complete game on the eighth try.

The Giants scored a pair of unearned runs in the 13th off reliever Don Elston (5-4) for their sixth in a row over the Cubs. Hargy Kuenn drove in a run for a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning, then singled home the lead run. The clincher scored on an error by outfielder Billy Williams. Sam Jones (2-3) was the winner in his first relief job of the season.

Millar Named To Star Team

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Dale Millar, Ashville, was one of eight Ohio sharpshooters named today to the 1961 All-American trapshooting team by Jim Robinson, clay target editor of Sports Illustrated Magazine.

Millar is the defending world doubles shoot champion with a record of 9 hits in 100 shots.

Other honored Buckeyes are Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro, the 1960 national and Grand American 16-yard champion with 290 straight and 275 without a miss in a shoot-off; Fred Waldo of Sanluis, the state 16-yard champion with 199 of 200; and Johnny Sternberger of Dayton, who won four 500-target marathons last year.

Named to the women's team were Helen Urban of Mentor, winner of the women's Grand American title with 199 of 200, and Mrs. Van B. Marker of Versailles. Mike Baker of West Alexandria won a second team berth in the junior division, and Ken Stauffer of Trotwood was named to the sub-junior team.

Herb Hinojosa, who has been riding so well in Maryland this spring, had 43 winners during the Hialeah meeting last winter.

Carburetion Tests Start For Tuesday's '500' Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —It was carburetion test day on the Indianapolis Speedway today, a final shakedown for the 33 daredevil pilots who will defy death or destruction in the golden anniversary 500-mile auto race Tuesday.

Between 30 minutes and an hour, one of the best collections of sleek, snarling machines ever entered in this classic motor event will swirl around the 2 1/2-mile "brickyard" as anxious crews look for failings.

There never has been a fatal accident in this final warmup for the big Memorial Day race, although in 1941 Sam Hanks, now speedway director of competition, flipped when his engine locked up and his car was knocked out of the race. However, Hanks escaped uninjured.

The preliminaries to this year's 500 have been grim with veteran Tony Bettenhausen trying for his first triumph in 15 starts, killed in a May 11 practice spin. In all, 11 cars hit the wall since the track opened for practice May 1.

With the track running during the carburetion trial almost under regular ace conditions — with perhaps the entire 33-car field roaring at the same time — a lot of attention will be paid Jack Brabham, Australia's world road racing champion, driving his rear engine Cooper-Climax speedster.

Brabham, who qualified for 13th position in the time trials at 145.144 mph, is seeking to become the first foreign winner of the 500 since Dario Resta, the Italian-born Englishman triumphed in 1916.

While Brabham is highly regarded, so is Parnelli Jones, 27, of Torrance, Calif., a clever driver who last year won the tough Midwest sprint circuit title. No rookie has won the 500 since George Souders triumphed in 1927.

The speedway railbirds consider defending champion Jim Rathmann, 1959 winner Rodger Ward, and the 1952 Speedway king Troy Ruttman as the men to beat in this rough race to nowhere.

Top Golfers Shun Wrath of PGA

NEW YORK (AP)—Golf's cash rewards have become so great that the two top money winners of the game can't afford to risk suspension from the PGA tour to represent their countries in one of the world's outstanding international competitions.

As a result a couple of gay gaffers, a century old today, Jimmy Demaret and Sam Snead, will carry Uncle Sam's colors in the Canada Cup international matches at Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico, next Thursday through Sunday.

Demaret, 51 Wednesday, was chosen to replace Arnold Palmer, the U. S. Open champion, as partner of Snead, 49 today, when Palmer, South Africa's Gary Player and Canada's Stan Leonard withdrew from the Cup matches Friday under threat of PGA suspension. Palmer and Snead won the Canada Cup last year.

Ohio Fans Pay Out $786,038 at Gate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 1961 high school basketball tournaments, from the county through the state championships attracted 955,616 fans who paid $786,038 at the gate.

The attendance was up from last year's 923,387, and receipts were ahead of the $714,614 of 1960.

The Ohio High School Athletic Association, which has been expanding its services to the member schools, retained $163,489 as its share of the cash—as compared with $140,317 a year ago. Back in 1952 the state association kept $83,380, slightly more than half the current figure.

All the association's funds come from basketball tournaments, but it finances various phases of nine different sports in which 120,314 boys on 4,640 teams compete.

This year's state tournament, in which Portsmouth won the Class AA crown and Ayersville was the Class A winner was attended by 51,448 fans who paid $87,845. Programs and radio-TV fees added $2,000, and the state association retained $72,192. The association also profited $3,057 from the county meets, $39,515 from the sectional-district events, and $48,723 from the regionals.

Biggest of the county meets wasn't even held in Ohio. It was the Preble County classic, staged at Richmond, Ind., which was viewed by 16,481. Marion County was next with 10,796 and Putnam third with 9,090.

The Central District's AA meet at Columbus drew 32,567 fans to lead that sector of the playoffs, Troy taking the runner-up spot with 29,734.

Kent drew 15,339 to lead the Class AA regionals, and Lima topped the Class A list with 8,391.

The county tournaments drew 311,145 fans and $211,354 in cash; the sectional-districts 520,494 customers and $402,583, and the regionals 72,529 fans and $84,255.

Competing teams drew $3600 in bonuses and $5,284 in expense money at the state meet. Cheerleaders received $989 in expenses, and officials, timers, scorers, etc., received $1,279.

Last season marked the 14th National Hockey League campaign for Doug Harvey, 35-year-old defenseman of the Montreal Canadiens. Harvey has won the James Norris Memorial Trophy six times.
